

[Free download] Capitalism in the Age of Globalization: The Management of Contemporary Society (Critique Influence Change)

Capitalism in the Age of Globalization: The Management of Contemporary Society (Critique Influence Change)

Samir Amin

ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

Download

Read Online

#1784119 in eBooks 2014-02-13 2014-02-13 File Name: B00I6ISZ5K | File size: 47.Mb

Samir Amin : Capitalism in the Age of Globalization: The Management of Contemporary Society (Critique Influence Change) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Capitalism in the Age of Globalization: The Management of Contemporary Society (Critique Influence Change):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Its okayBy DiogenesOut of date material.2 of 19 people found the following review helpful. incomprehensibleBy A Customera feast of inspirational ideas and theories hidden in an incomprehensible text.14 of 26 people found the following review helpful. Dominant mind in IPEBy A CustomerIn this offering Samir solidifies his position in the field of IPE. Center/periphery polarization is concomitant with an antidemocratic construction of a global political system that subverts the once auto-centered nation state. By virtue of the five monopolies, the West has controlled both the political and economic development of the world and given rise to a market economy that, in collusion with the political sphere, has subverted political rights and powers to the advantage of capital and its minions. Hope can only be found when democratic and auto-centered political influence reigns in it's bastard son- the market, and defines it's parameters.

Samir Amin remains one of the world's most influential thinkers about the changing nature of North-South relations in the development of contemporary capitalism. In this highly prescient book, originally published in 1997, he provides a powerful analysis of the new unilateral capitalist era following the collapse of the Soviet model, and the apparent triumph of the market and globalization. Amin's innovative analysis charts the rise of ethnicity and fundamentalism as consequences of the failure of ruling classes in the South to counter the exploitative terms of globalization. This has had profound implications and continues to resonate today. Furthermore, his deconstruction of the Bretton Woods institutions as managerial mechanisms which protect the profitability of capital provides an important insight into the continued difficulties in reforming them. Amin's rejection of the apparent inevitability of globalization in its present polarising form is particularly prophetic - instead he asserts the need for each society to negotiate the terms of its interdependence with the rest of the global economy. A landmark work by a key contemporary thinker.

'Amin's global intellectual reach enables him to deal with a wide variety of issues with magnificent ease and simplicity' - International Journal of Middle East Studies 'This world-class economist is a serious Nobel Prize contender' - Economic Development and Social Change 'An easily accessible sampling of this pioneering analyst's reflections about the dynamics of late twentieth century capitalism and its implication for poor countries and poor people' - Solon Barraclough, Senior Consultant, UNRISDA About the Author Samir Amin is one of the world's foremost radical thinkers. He has been Director of the United Nations African Institute for Planning, Director of the Third World Forum in Dakar, Senegal and was a co-founder of the World Forum for Alternatives.