Dorothy Patrick : Everything You Thought You Knew About Traveling the Grants Information Highway before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Everything You Thought You Knew About Traveling the Grants Information Highway:

Blue print for accessing and securing grant fundings.

About the Author Dorothy J. Patrick, a mother and grandmother, resides in Dallas, Texas with her husband, John. The author organized and operates a non-profit organization in Dallas, whose mission is to address the social and human needs of low-income senior citizens and other economically disadvantaged citizens, assist in improving their quality of life, and to ease suffering and neglect for this segment of our society who seem to have been forgotten.
