I felt connected with people in these stories. It was encouraging to read how each of them overcame struggles and found God's calling for their lives. Prayers for them and more christ seekers for success on this path. Thanks Skip for giving candid and well rounded evidence of faith through this book! 0 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By randy Crear book

God is doing the seemingly impossible in Silicon Valley—changing the hearts and attitudes of the rich and successful, and those desperately pursuing riches, power, and prestige. Having a tradition of disrupting the status quo with technology, Silicon Valley may be poised to challenge its perception as a wasteland of faith as well. Finding God in Silicon Valley tells how God is working in the lives of people in Silicon Valley—venture capitalists, entrepreneurs, leaders of major companies, innovators in non-profit start-ups, scientists, and technologists. You will be inspired and challenged as you read their journeys of faith. The book provides lessons for anyone who has struggled with faith. You will read how these leaders got beyond the trappings of financial and business success to find God; how they overcame personal struggle and even tragedy to come to know Christ; how they reconciled reason and faith, and science and faith; and how they discovered meaning, purpose, and a calling for their lives. The book's Foreword is written by Pat Gelsinger, CEO of VMware, a $6 billion company. Included in the book are stories of venture capital luminaries such as venture capitalists Kevin Compton and Promod Haque, and Google executive Kirk Perry. Following are endorsements for the book:

“In a thought-provoking manner, Skip Vaccarello provides a collection of amazing stories of leaders who have found God in Silicon Valley...one of the most influential but anti-God places on earth...” Pat Gelsinger - VMware CEO

“For those curious about faith, I highly recommend that you read Finding God in Silicon Valley. It could change your life!” Brent Jones, former All-Pro SF 49er and Managing Director, Northgate Capital

“In Finding God in Silicon Valley, you will meet some great folks of faith.” Kevin Compton, Founder, Radar Partners, a venture capital firm

“Skip has skillfully woven together the captivating stories of influential men and women of the Silicon Valley, a place where you might not expect to find such vibrant followers of Christ.” Chuck Bryant, CEO and Board Chair, Pinnacle Forum America, Inc.

“This is a must read for business leaders, and beyond—soak it in, learn, and be inspired!” Bob Dees, Major General, U.S. Army, Retired

“These stories breathe humanity, wisdom, ethics, and even joy into a technological age in search of truth. A treasure of insight into what matters, and why.” Kelly Monroe Kullberg, Finding God at Harvard, The Veritas Forum

“If you are looking for inspiration and finding out what it takes to live a truly purpose-driven life, this book and these stories could change your life forever.” Tom Tognoli, CEO, Intero Real Estate, a Berkshire Hathaway affiliate
